Changing back ... or forward thinking?

The major decision to redesign the traditional internationally well recognised Fleur de Lys with the accent on our Australian colours adds a significantly new storyline for Australian scouting history books

Like it or not, we have a new logo and brand to promote to a community audience who were used to the old logo since 1907 or soon after.

Letting go of old ways of thinking is hard to do. But the Australian Scout Museum is using worldwide best practice to engage non scouts to consider finding out what having fun in scouting is all about... taking managed risks. This recent birthday boy, Sam (holding the Rover initiation sword) was given the opportunity with his gang of mates to experience the potential of being an Australian Scout for an hour... priceless marketing... the back story of what they did next was amazing to watch!

Ask our Activity Centre team... what we can do for your local group.

Have a team building game with your parents and bring a friend or two.

GRANVILLE HQ refreshed and rejuvenated

Visiting Granville Activity Centre, previously 7th Parramatta Scout Group, was a unique Heritage Fellowship event. "Wonderful", "Best Ever" annual general meeting I have attended in a long-time quoting Mark Burfield, NSW Scouts Commissioner for Special Needs. "They brought fun back into Scouting... why we do... what we do" the leadership team of 1st Parramatta, a new Joey Leader initiated, and 1st Granville joined the musical canopy of a crazy musical orchestra. Commissioners, Bill Pickering, trombone virtuoso, new Cub leaders, and a local resident, Malcolm Wilson donated a wide range of Audio Visual equipment, Andrew Coglan was given an honorary Fellowship scarf...

Getting the most from our research analysis

Locating some key scouting activities closer to the centre of where most young people live in NSW.

SMARTER THINKING:
Experience⁺
Youth Lead

The traditional assumption is that everyone knows what Scouts do is very misleading. The 2016 ABS census statistics note that the concentration of young people of Western Sydney, are along the main transport corridors of rail and motorways crisscrossing Central Sydney.

Much of what we do is to attract the 98% of young people in NSW to what Scouts do.

Sydney Olympic Park Authority manages 486 hectares, including 52 within our Newington Armory site. NSW Scouts made a wise choice in 2011 and we are pleased with the ongoing support of SOPA into its next phase of its 2030 strategic plan.

The Australian Scout Museum building site is near the 1897 built northern entrance, close to Parramatta River.

What's is the WOW Factor to attract young people to scouting? The Youth Program Review is what we took to heart.

Changing from old established ways of doing things, required some rewiring of our thinking caps. To implement a new look, via disrupting existing layouts, refreshing old sites with a 21st century vision transforming the ASM into a vital living museum.

The Four Challenges should have a WOW Factor for your own benefit and creating more harmonious families within where you live and for others around you. They include a Personal, Community, Creative an Outdoor Challenge.

As such, this new Australian Scouts philosophy challenges us that the old Mottos "Do Your Best" or on your "Scout's Honour" or do a "Good turn each day" are not forgotten.

For us traditionalists, a reminder for younger scouts of BP's original intention was for youth led scouting, as a peace movement, and not for making better WW1 soldiers.

Back Office@Belfield

Joe Attard, Assistant State Commissioner, Heritage, behind the scenes, has a difficult job of accepting donations, archiving and assisting NSW Branch with historical file and record retrieval as required. Jan Steinfurth, Ken Coles and others are volunteering their time, sometimes to go back 50 years into the paper records. A thankless task. Bravo!

In January, Joe attended the 2019 Jamboree in South Australia, promoting our heritatge collection to a national audience.

Also collecting donations required expert archival knowledge to be shared, so recently three Heritage Fellowship members went to Powerhouse Museum Discovery Centre at Castle Hill to be upskilled in presenting historical exhibitions.

More heritage admin volunteers, ex librarians or interns are needed. ... ask your friends to donate one day a week or a month as it would be greatly appreciated...

Retiring Rovers most welcome to be a valued member of the NSW Scouts Heritage team!

Fun@Fundraising

In the recent Federal Government round of Community Builder grants we were successful in three submissions, with over $12,000 to upgrade facilities and amenities.

Belfield: $4680
Australian Scout Museum: $2650
Granville HO: $4796

Well done to the grant writing team.
